

BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA

EVERY DESTINATION HAS SOMETHING UNIQUE TO OFFER

Bosnia and Herzegovina is extremely rich in various flora and fauna. Biosphere of Bosnia and Herzegovina has the advantage that the country is relatively sparsely populated and there are uninhabited areas. Half of the land area is covered by forests, especially its mountains. Due to the limited accessibility, the natural world is not threatened, and habitats of rare plants and animals are preserved.

Though a relatively small country, Bosnia and Herzegovina has a rich culture that has had a major impact on other countries in the Balkans, and on occasion, and on the whole world. It is expressed in different areas of human activity, including music, literature, film, art and applied arts, design, and modern media. The capital Sarajevo hosted the 14th Winter Olympic Games, which were not only gathering young athletes from all over the world, but also games of culture, peace and friendship.

The spring of the Buna River is a hundred year place of prayer and meditation. The spring of the Buna River is one of the most beautiful carst, here comes 43 cubic meters of water, in one second what ranks this river spring among the most powerful in Europe. At the very hot and there is a Dervish House, one of the most important examples of sacral residential Islamic culture of BiH. In the spring there are seafood restaurants where you can (optionally) to try the local fish specialties. After the lunch we return to the Sarajevo. Overnight stay.

Day 4: Bjelašnica mountain

After breakfast, visit Bjelašnica mountain - Bjelašnica is covered with snow from November to May, and sometimes in the summer, and hence arises the explanation for its name.

Bjelašnica is the highest and most popular ski resort in the country. It is located only 25 kilometers southwest of the capital city of Sarajevo. This is the place where most of the competitions in the 1984 Winter Olympic Games took place, particularly the Alpine and Nordic disciplines and jumps. Special attractions are high snowdrifts that reach several meters. Especially interesting is its winter landscape, when the snow looks like a massive blanket that covers everything you can see around you. This is a great place to spend some time with your family or friends.

Back to hotel. Overnight stay.

The average number of days with snow cover on Jahorina is 175, and from October to the end of the May. Annual average height of snow cover in February is 106 cm. The reason for this is that Jahorina is located on the border interference Mediterranean and continental air flow, and has a climate very suitable for the human body.
